RAILWAY CLERKS MEET HERE AND DISCUSS PLUMB PLAN

About Fifty Members of Brotherhood of Railway Clerks Meet Here Sunday in Annual Meeting.

There were about fifty members of the Cincinnati Division Lodge No. 287 Brotherhood of Railway Clerks here Sunday to attend their annual meeting which was held at the Farm Bureau building. More clerks had been expected but the members from the eastern section of the division did not attend as they had been expected to do, however, the meeting was a decided success.

President W. P. Gahan called the meeting to order at 10:10 a. m. and the usual routine of business was transacted. Mr. S. R. Lowery was unanimously re-elected local chairman at Maysville with Messrs. E. H. Sunter and C. W. Brown assisting. There were several ladies present and the Mayville L. & N. clerks were also in attendance.

A recess from noon until 1:30 o'clock was declared and the visitors took lunch at the Model restaurant where they received the best in the market and splendid service. The visitors were lavish in their praise of the service which was quite a surprise to them in such a town as Maysville. They also took a sight-seeing trip about the city and were pleased with the beauty of our little city.

At the afternoon session the doors were thrown open to all and the Plumb plan was thoroughly discussed. A round table discussion brought out many points in its favor. At 3:15 the meeting adjourned and so pleased were the visiting clerks with their treatment in Maysville that they may return here for another meeting in the near future.

Miss Phoebe Huron, stenographer at the Mason County Farm Bureau, is this week enjoying her annual vacation which she will spend at home.

asked a woman recently when we were examining her eyes. "Because failure to be particular and careful may mean more eye-strain and more glasses. ## OHIO SENATOR HEADS REPUBLICAN TICKET; COOLIDGE SECOND Republicans Name Strong Ticket for November Election on Saturday Night at Ills (Chicago) Convention.

United States Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, was chosen the Republican party's candidate for President and Calvin Coolidge, Governor of Massachusetts was chosen as his running mate at the big Chicago convention on Saturday night after a week's session.

The big landslide to the Ohioan came after a recess Saturday afternoon when the leaders discovered that there was no chance to nominate General Leonard Wood, Governor Frank Lowden or Senator Hiram Johnson, the three chief contenders for the honors. After the eighth ballot Governor Frank O. Lowden saw that there would be a deadlock between General Wood and himself that could not be broken and he released his delegates that they might switch to any candidate they desired. Kentucky was one of the first states to go into the Harding camp, voting all 26 of its votes for the Ohio Senator on the ninth ballot but despite the fact that many Lowden delegates went to the Ohio man, he could not rally enough on this count to nominate.

On the tenth ballot, however, state after state went into the Harding column and when Pennsylvania which had been supporting its favorite son, Governor Sproul, cast its 60 votes to Senator Harding, he needed but 32 to nominate. This was a signal for a great demonstration and it was hard for the secretaries to catch the other states as they cast their vote, at the end of the tenth ballot the score stood as follows:

Wood 156; Lowden 11; Johnson 80 4-5; Harding 692 1-5; Coolidge 5; Hoover 5%; Butler 2; Knox 1; Lenroot 1; Hayes 1; LaFollette 24; one-half vote absent.

But one ballot was necessary to elect Governor Calvin Coolidge as the party's nominee for Vice President. The ballot resulted as follows.

Coolidge 674 1/2; Lenroot 146 1/2; Allen 68 1/2; Anderson 28; Johnson 22 1/2; Grinnell 24; Pritchard 10.

Senator Harding is 55 years of age and the editor and publisher of the Marion Star, of Marion, Ohio. He is the son of a country doctor and spent his early life on the farm being educated in the rural schools of Ohio and working his own way through Ohio Central College. In early life he was attracted to the print shop and learned the business from Devil to Editor, taking over the Marion Star when it was a weak and unpromising weekly. He has built it up to be one of the strongest daily newspapers in the state of Ohio. He entered politics as State Senator and later served as Lieutenant Governor. He was elected to the United States Senate in 1914 by a majority of 102,000 despite the fact that that same year the Democrats carried Ohio.

Calvin Coolidge will be 48 years of age the Fourth of July. He too, was born and reared on the farm. After attending academies in the state of Vermont he was graduated from Amherst College in 1895 and began the practice of law in Northampton, Mass., his home city. He first gained prominence last year when as Governor of Massachusetts he preserved law and order in the city of Boston during the police strike.

This ticket will receive the hearty support of all Republicans everywhere as neither Harding or Coolidge have been entangled in the pre-convention fight. Leaders have telegraphed their

AMPHITHEATER WILL BE BUILT AT BALL PARK

Arrangements Made Today For Building Grand Stand and Bleacher Seats at League Park.

Those at the head of the Thursday afternoon baseball league made arrangements today for the erection at League baseball park in the immediate future of a spacious amphitheater and bleacher seats for the use of those who will want to witness the series of baseball games in the Thursday afternoon league, which are expected to start within a very short time.

Arrangements for the completion of the league are going forward rapidly and it is expected that the three original teams will be ready to start the series next week. Other teams are also being proposed and before the league is well under way some five or six teams will likely be organized.

The east end men are talking of organizing a team and the Pulley Factory men are also thinking seriously of getting a strong bunch together. This factory has within it some of the best baseball players in the Ohio Valley and no doubt could offer a pennant winning team from the start.

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

A TICKET THAT WILL WIN.

When the Republican national convention nominated Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge at Chicago Saturday, it not only selected standard bearers. It named the next President and Vice President of the United States.

The nomination, amid the wildest scenes of party enthusiasm enacted at a national political convention within the memory of this generation, and the platform to which the nominees are pledged, remove thin-as-hair doubts to assail voters in reaching final conclusions. Spell binders will not be able to weave their webs of sophistry to mislead the voters and convince them that the white of one party is identical with the black of another.

The vital issues in this campaign have been set forth so clearly, the Republican party has taken a stand so thoroughly American on the big problems confronting the nation, that it is given a place as the one party dedicated to the principle of "America first."

To the American voter now is given the opportunity of making his choice. He must make up his mind which of two causes he prefers—that of Wilson and the Democrats, using all their strategy for the advancement of European interests at the expense of American, or the sturdy Americanism which first protects our own national welfare, with hands and hearts ever ready to succor the weak, the needy and the suffering. The Republican party is pledged to the latter course and has a platform that will carry its nominees to victory.

Reflected in this platform and in expressions of the candidates on the great questions of the time is the attitude of an overwhelming majority of the people who think. The Chicago convention has made it certain that this will be a Republican year.

AN IMPOSSIBLE PLAN.

The sort of men employed by the Federal War Labor Board during the war is illustrated in the testimony of W. Jett Lauck, former secretary of that organization, who styles himself a "consulting economist."

Mr. Lauck appeals for a minimum wage of $2,500 for unskilled workers in the railroad industry. He would have track walkers, section hands, bridge watchmen, and the like, paid three or four times what they received a few years ago.

Mr. Lauck bases his argument on figures of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Labor, which are intended to show that a family of five cannot live properly on a smaller amount.

Mr. Lauck's deductions may be true, but it is also a fact that no family in the country can maintain its former stands of living on the amount of former expenditures. Economies have to be practiced by all, and if one class of our citizens is to have their income increased to keep pace with the rising cost of living, it only means that the other classes must suffer more than their share of privation.

But Mr. Lauck goes even further than that. The cost of living has gone up about a hundred per cent. in the past few years. He proposes not only to double the wages of common laborers, but to quadruple them. Had there been no increase whatever in living costs, Mr. Lauck's theory would call for a doubling of wages of the lowest grades of labor. Of course such a scheme is nothing else than pure socialism, masquerading under a plea for relief from high prices.

The nation today enjoys a rare privilege in that it knows five months before election who the next President will be.

Now that he knows who his successor in the White House will be, congratulations from Wilson would seem to be in order.

Trust Bryan to get something out of a national political convention. If not a nomination, at least a reporter's salary.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, who reaches his sixty-fifth birthday today, has been an independent, though nominally a Republican, leader in the United States Senate for many years. At times he has had a strong personal following, and more than once his name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination. Senator La Follette is a native of Wisconsin and made his first mark in the political life of that state as a prosecuting attorney. From 1885 to 1901 he sat in Congress and starred in the tactics and policies of the Republican party, though with some signs of insubordination. Nominated for the Wisconsin governorship, he won in the campaign of 1901, and held the place until 1907. Under his administration much of the legislation that has made the state famous was enacted. Chosen to sit in the national senate in 1905, he has been twice re-elected, indicating his continuing hold on the people, despite the opposition of bitter foes.

You may be brave enough to stand backache or headache or dizziness. But, if, in addition urination is disordered, look out! If you don't try to fix your sick kidneys, you may fall into the clutch of dangerous disease before you know it. But, if you live more carefully and have your kidneys in good condition, you can stop the pain you have and avoid future danger as well. Don't experiment with the remedy Maysville people are publicly endorsing. Read this case:

Mrs. R. W. Louderback, W. Second St., Maysville, says: "Some few years ago I was suffering with kidney trouble and had been for a long time. I was nervous and dizzy and had severe headaches. My kidneys were too frequent in action and annoyed me greatly. I had full relapses at the small of my back and was so lame at times that I could hardly bend one way or the other. Someone advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They helped me at once and continued use entirely cured me of the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Louderback had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mifflin, Buffalo, N. Y.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Main Points in Great Platform Adopted by the Republican Party Thursday Night.

Chicago, June 11. — "Unyielding devotion to the Constitution of the United States and to the guarantees of civil, political and religious liberty therein contained" is pledged in the platform adopted, Thursday night, by the Republican National convention.

The Republican party "will resist all attempts to overthrow the foundations of the Government or to weaken the force of its controlling principles and ideals, whether these attempts be made in the form of international policy or of domestic agitation," the platform sets forth. Outstanding features of the document are:

Democratic Administration — "The outstanding features of the Administration have been complete unpreparedness for war and complete unpreparedness for peace."

League of Nations — "The Republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. Such an international association must be based upon international justice and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by development of law and the decision of impartial courts, and which shall cause instant and general international conferences, whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, as that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war." This section endorses the action of the Republican senators in opposing the treaty and League of Nations covenant. The covenant is condemned.

Mexico — Administration's policy toward Mexico is condemned. None but a responsible, stable government in Mexico should be recognized—one ready to guarantee protection of the lives and property of American citizens.

Armenia — The President's request to Congress that a mandate over Armenia be accepted is denounced as an attempt to draw the United States into the maelstrom of European affairs.

Labor — The justice of collective bargaining is recognized, but the strike and lockout are condemned as inflicting such losses as to justify Government initiative in bringing them to a termination. "We deny the right to strike against the Government; but the rights and interest of all Government employees must be safeguarded by impartial laws and tribunals." The principle of compulsory arbitration in private industry is not advocated.

Agriculture — Extension of the Federal farm loan act is advocated.

High Cost of Living — "Gross expansion of our currency and credit" is proposed for reducing the purchasing power of the dollar 50 per cent. The "unsound fiscal policies" of the Administration are attacked.

Prohibition — The Administration is condemned for "failure impartially to enforce the anti-prohibition laws enacted by the Republican Congress."

Railroads — Government ownership is opposed.

Waterways — Water transportation service and facilities should be encouraged and developed.

Regulation of Industry — Anti-trust laws are approved and should be strengthened.

Woman Suffrage — States which have not yet ratified woman suffrage are urged to do so at once.

Child Labor — A Federal child labor law and its rigid enforcement are advocated.

Service Men — "We pledge ourselves to discharge to the fullest the obligations which a grateful nation justly should fulfill in appreciation of the service rendered by its defenders."

Tariff — Revision is pledged.

Taxation — The character of taxation must be changed.

Merchant Marine — Privately-owned and American-managed merchant marine is advocated.

Did you ever tell the truth for twenty-four hours at a stretch? Robert Bennett did. And Chautauqua audiences this summer will have a chance to follow his vicissitudes as they watch the play, "Nothing but the Truth," as presented by the Pervilian Players.

The play, by James Montgomery, is one of the cleverest farces ever shown on the American stage. Its screamingly funny situations are interwoven with tense and emotional developments that make for a complete whole. There is a laugh every minute, with smile between each laugh.

CROP REPORT SHOWS GRAIN PROSPECT REDUCED

Meadows Show Good Growth—Apple Prospects Are Good — Pasture Is Fair Only.

With numerous reports of a very short acreage, heavy abandonment, thin stand, and damage by Hessian fly, Kentucky's wheat crop now promises 5,825,000 bushels compared to a prospect early in May for 6,142,000 bushels, according to the June crop report, issued jointly at Frankfort and Louisville by State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna and H. F. Bryant, Kentucky field agent of the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. Last year the final yield in Kentucky turned out 12,029,000 bushels while the five-year average, 1914-18 inclusively, was 10,316,000 bushels. The greatest cut in acreage and the heaviest damage apparently occurred in Western and Southern Kentucky.

Oats are doing fine on a good acreage, except where too badly drowned out in a few places. The condition is 92 per cent. of normal and the acreage about 450,000, indicating a production of about 10,706,000 bushels, compared to 9,900,000 bushels last year.

Rye shows a condition of 83 per cent. of normal. With about 53,000 acres in the state to be harvested for grain this indicates a production of approximately 629,000 bushels, compared to 744,000 bushels last year.

Most meadows have made good growth, though some sections are poor or very weedy, and some of the first cutting of alfalfa was damaged by rain. Condition of clover is 89 per cent., with the acreage about 12 per cent. less than in 1919, due chiefly to high prices of seed and to winter-kill. Alfalfa condition is 90 per cent., due chiefly to freezing out. The acreage is about ten per cent. less than in 1919.

Apple prospects are good in most sections, the average being about 71 per cent. of a crop. Peaches are about 78 per cent. of a crop, while pears are about 65 per cent.

Pasture in most sections averages fair. All work and crops are very late. Much plowing, corn planting and tobacco setting still being done. Truck crops are growing well now, but melons were severely checked by cold, wet weather in May. Blackberries promise a bumper crop practically all over the state.

Tobacco — The first report on tobacco will be made early in July.

ELECTRICAL STORM DOES DAMAGE AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., June 13.—High winds which uprooted trees, leveled telephone and interurban wires and damaged other property in northern sections of Cincinnati accompanied a rain storm tonight which brought relief to citizens who had sweltered from the heat all day.

The storm which swept down from the northwest, was especially severe in Glendale, Hartwell, Pleasant Ridge, Norwood and neighboring communities north of Cincinnati. Downtown parts of the city escaped the full force of the wind, though drenched in the downpour of rain, which was accompanied by a heavy electrical storm.

In Glendale scores of trees were blown down and many roofs damaged, while wires were broken.

"Old Summer Slump" hit the schools first hard blow yesterday. "Too hot" they will say, yet there is not a church but that is more comfortable than the average home. It would be a good place to chase "Summer Slump" to the bushes, and keep right at the Sunday school job, hot or cold. Let's get back into form again next Sunday.

The Children's Day program given last evening at the Third Street M. E. church, was a decided success from the standpoint of a beautifully rendered program. In spite of the weather which stormed continuously from 6:30 on the little ones were all on the dot for their part of the program. And right well did they render it. Under the careful and efficient training of Miss Hurd the program went forward without a hitch. The decorations by Mr. Walsh and the pretty colored lights thrown on the platform, added greatly to the beauty and effectiveness of the service. Considering the stormy night there was a fine attendance. If it hadn't rained the church would have been packed to seat the people.

NOTICE ODD FELLOWS.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED OVER THE NATION TODAY BY ALL PEOPLE

One Hundred and Forty-third Anniversary of "Old Glory" Is Observed By Americans Everywhere.

During the Revolution the flag had 13 stars; in the War of 1812, 15; in the Mexican War, 29; in the Civil War, 35; in the Spanish-American War, 45; and in the World War, 48.

One of the oldest existing flags of the Stars and Stripes design is that which was carried by the North Carolina troops at the battle of Guilford Courthouse, March 15, 1781, and which is now preserved in the rooms of the Masonic grand lodge in Raleigh.

The first instance in which the 13 colonies were represented on an emblem was in the flag carried by the light horse troops of Philadelphia in escorting Washington to Kingsbridge, N. Y., on his way to Cambridge to take command of the army. This flag was a gorgeous banner of yellow silk trimmed with silver, and bearing in its upper corner a square of 13 white and blue stripes.

The first merchant ship to carry the American flag to a foreign port was the Bedford, of Nantucket, which arrived in England, February 6, 1783, with a cargo of whale oil. A London newspaper of that day said: "She is manned wholly by American seamen, wears the rebel colors, and belongs to the island of Nantucket, in Massachusetts."

Previous to 1784 the Chinese had no word in their language as a name for the young American republic. When the Stars and Stripes was first carried there in that year they described the flag as being as handsome as a flower, and speaking of the vessel called it Kaw-Kee-Cheum, Flax Flower Ship, and an American they called Kaw-Kee-Kock-Yin, Flower Flag countryman.

Many writers have stated that the patriots carried no flag in the battle of Lexington. In this they are mistaken. Nathaniel Page, captain of the Minute Men of the town of Bedford had a flag for his company. When they received word that the British were coming they hastened to Lexington and carried the flag with them. In the thickest of the fight it was laid upon the ground for a while. When the British retreated the Bedford men followed them carrying their flag, which consisted of a maroon field and a picture of an armored arm and hand holding aloft a sword.

Until after the civil war all the official flags United States flags were made of bunting manufactured abroad.

On February 26, 1866, Gen. Benjamin F. Butler presented to Congress a flag that was made in his mill at Lowell, Mass., the material for which was grown and manufactured in the United States, made by Americans on American machinery. Congress accepted it with a vote of thanks and ordered that no foreign material should ever again be used in making the official United States flags.

The American flag was first given the name of "Old Glory" by Captain Stephen Driver, an old seadog of Salem, Mass. In 1831, when admiring friends gave Captain Driver a great flag for his ship, he made a short, but energetic speech, at the close of which he raised his hand toward the banner at the mast's head, and shouted "Old Glory!" Every afterward people called him Old Glory Driver.

One of the last battles of the Revolution was over a flag. It was a single-handed fight between a Mrs. Day, keeper of a boarding house in Greenwich street, New York city, and Major Cunningham, the British Provost Marshal.

The British had agreed to evacuate the city at noon on November 25, 1783. About 9 o'clock in the morning Mrs. Day hoisted the American flag in front of her house. Major Cunningham ordered her to take the flag down, and upon her refusing, he undertook to do it himself, and she proceeded to beat him with a broom. She won the battle and the flag remained.
